

BUCKSTAFF TO PUBLISH FACTS

He Will Disclose What He Knows of the Book Scandal.

STORY IS VERIFIED

Reticence at the Governor's Office Concerning His Whereabouts.

RUMOR FROM CHICAGO

(Special A. D. Dispatch). Madison, September 12.—It is said at republican headquarters here that ex-Speaker Buckstaff is planning to bring the whole of the scandal of the book trouble before the public. He claims that both ex-Governor Hoard and Senator Stout know all the facts of the case the same as he does and that when the truth is known there will be some tall doings. It is asserted that a man closely connected with the governor and from Milwaukee was the man who engineered the deal through and if the money was not received by the central committee, members of it knew of the use of the money and how it was obtained.

Absurd Whitewashing
The republicans are laughing over the attempt to whitewash the whole matter over by asking a new committee to clear what the old committee did. As one man said: "What the old committee did cannot be explained by the new committee nor can they assert that the old committee did not know that the money was received or why. They can only answer for their own actions."

La Follette's Conditions.
Reports from Chicago to the effect that Governor La Follette was there undergoing an operation for stomach trouble is emphatically denied in the governor's office. They will not state just where he is but state that he is not well and is not in Chicago. It is thought that the governor is resting at some out of the way resort so that he will be ready for a vigorous campaign starting next week.

THIRTEEN-YEAR OLD BOY GONE

Likewise $12,000 Worth of Negotiable Mining Stock He Had.

New York, Sept. 12.—(Special).—With $12,000 in negotiable mining stock and $17 in money in his possession, a 13-year-old boy disappeared between Staten Island and Brooklyn, on Wednesday and the police force of the whole country has been asked to search for him. His parents believe that he has been either robbed or murdered, and in the two days that he has been gone no clew has come to relieve their anxiety. John Kronicke is his name and his home is at 142 Havemeyer street, Brooklyn. He was carrying the sureties to his mother when he was last seen. So far as is known he was a quiet studious boy, and there is no reason why he should have run away from home. That he has been killed, kidnapped or drugged is the only explanation of his disappearance his relatives can offer.

HALF DAY SESSION FOR LITTLE FOLKS

No Child Under Four Years of Age Will Be Admitted to Public Kindergartens.

For the first time in the history of the city kindergartens will be conducted as a part of the public school system during the coming year. Great interest has been manifested in this new departure and many inquiries have been made by parents who are interested concerning the time of the sessions and the age at which children will be admitted.

In order that the public may be informed as to the kindergarten regulations Supt. H. C. Buell has requested the Gazette to give publication to the following facts:

The regular kindergarten age is from four to six years, and no child under four years will be admitted. The four kindergartens will open at 9 o'clock next Monday morning and will continue in half day sessions throughout the school year, thus keeping the little people in school only half a day.

The First Ward children residing west of the railroad tracks will attend the Washington school kindergarten; the kindergarten for the Second ward children will be held temporarily in the old St. Mary's church; the Third ward children will attend the kindergarten at the Jefferson school and the children of the Fourth and Fifth wards will unite in the kindergarten at the Webster school.

ARTILLERY SHOULD BE BROUGHT BACK

Eighteen Companies Outside the United States Are Needed Here.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 12.—(Special).—On the return of Secretary Root his attention will be called to the fact that eighteen companies of coast artillery are on duty outside of the country, performing tasks which do not really devolve upon that branch of the army. Eight companies are in Cuba, where, of course, they are destined to remain, taking charge of the coast fortifications there. They will probably not be withdrawn. There are four companies in the Philippines, two companies in Alaska, two companies in the Hawaiian Islands, and two companies in Porto Rico. These ten companies are wanted badly at coast forts in this country where the force of enlisted men is not adequate to afford one relief at the guns.

Wants Them Back
The chief of artillery of the army, General Randolph, who has been devoting some consideration to the subject, has made a strong recommendation in favor of returning the coast artillery companies to their legitimate duties at home. He points out that infantry and cavalry regiments would better serve the purpose of military surveillance in the Philippines, Alaska, Hawaii, and Porto Rico. In his recommendation to the secretary he says that we may expect a deterioration in the coast fortifications and in efficiency of the enlisted force unless some means are taken to render available all the artilleryists at the command of the department.

MEN FIGHT FLAMES

Valuable Timber Lands Are Swept Away and Buildings Burned.

MANY ARE HOMELESS

(Special By Scripps-Mellae.) Portland, Ore., Sept. 12.—With unabated fury, forest fires continue to rage throughout Northern Oregon and are now attacking portions of Washington and British Columbia. Communication with many places is cut off.

Fury of the Flames
Hundreds of men are fighting the flames night and day in what seems a useless effort to save places threatened with destruction. Bridges along the Great Northern are destroyed, buildings burned and many people are homeless.

Timber Destroyed
Valuable timber belts in sections are practically wiped out. Portland, Tacoma, Seattle and many smaller cities wrapped in a pall of smoke. No loss of life thus far reported but it is feared that the casualty list will be a lengthy one when communication is restored.

Passes Sandy Hook.
The Philadelphia passed Sandy Hook early this morning at one-thirty, and steamed up New York Bay amid the tooting of the tug whistles. At ten this morning the Fuerst Bismark had not yet been sighted and the race was awarded the Philadelphia by several hours.

Left Southampton
Both boats left Southampton last Saturday together the Fuerst Bismark steaming out of the port a few hours after the Philadelphia. The conditions were simply for a time race across the Atlantic and arrival in New York harbor.

On her promise to do this the judge held her case open for a week. She evidently forgot her promise as soon as she left the court and proceeded to liquor up. This morning she was brought before Judge Fifield and pleaded guilty to the charge against her. The judge handed her five days and a fine of $3 and costs or five additional days in the county jail.

Valuable Corot Is Now in the New York Custom House—High Priced Work of Art.

New York, Sept. 12.—(Special).—A landscape by Corot, entered at a valuation of $50,000, was received at the public stores today for appraisal. The customs officials denied all requests to inspect the painting and refused to disclose the identity of the importer. If the valuation is not raised by the appraisers, $10,000 duty will be paid on the picture. At this valuation the Corot would probably be the highest priced painting which have ever been imported.

Secretary Shaw Relieves Market
Treasury Reserve Fund of Four Million Dollars to be Put in Circulation.

(Special By Scripps-Mellae.) Washington, D. C., September 12.—Secretary Shaw has announced this morning that in order to relieve the stringency in the money market in moving crops and on change that the treasury will release four million dollars that it has in reserve, in National Banks.

This money will be sent to the national banks of the country holding free or unpledged bonds and put into circulation at once. This money is merely the October interest that he is anticipating, not a reserve fund.

No Cause For Fear
Secretary Shaw wishes it understood that he is not doing this to avert any panic but simply to alleviate the present pressure so that the crops can be handled more expeditiously and with better results.

Try to Wreck A Trolley Car
Two Unknown Men Drive Spikes in Rails to Derail the Cars.

New York, Sept. 12.—(Special).—Two unknown men attempted to wreck a trolley car on the National Park line, near Woodbury, N. Y. They drove large spikes on the inner side of one rail on a curve skirting a deep ravine. The car luckily was moving unusually slow, otherwise many passengers would have been killed. As it was, the car left the track and twenty passengers were badly bruised. Some of them discovered two men running away through the bushes. They were pursued for some distance, but escaped. Robbery is presumed to have been the motive.

NAVAL PROFESSORS GO TO ANNAPOLIS

Those in Washington Are Sent to Their Posts Very Quickly.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 12.—(Special).—Secretary Moody has decided that the professors of mathematics who are on duty in Washington the most of whom have been here for some years, shall perform the duties which naturally would devolve upon them and become instructors of the naval cadets at Annapolis. He has already transferred two of these officers to duty at the naval academy. One of them is Prof. Rawson, who for several years has been superintendent of the library in the navy department and editor of the naval war records, a voluminous publication corresponding to the army records of the rebellion. The other officer is Prof. Paul, who has been for some time performing duties of a civil engineer in an advisory capacity, in the bureau of the yards and docks. He is an expert in steam heat and hydraulic plant work and has had charge of the plans and specifications relating to that part of public works at navy yards and stations.

Causes Sensation
It has caused something of a sensation in the corps of naval professors that they should be sent to Annapolis and taken away from more congenial duty in Washington. Of the twelve officers comprising the corps, seven are on duty in Washington, mostly at the naval observatory—one being director of the nautical almanac. Secretary Moody decided to make use of the professors at Annapolis, where there is a dearth of instructors, owing to the demand for line officers on shipboard and shore duty elsewhere.

FIRE IN OIL FIELD IS CHECKED
Total Loss at Beaumont, Tex., Is Estimated at $50,000.

The fire has destroyed ten pumping rigs and the Higgins 1,200-barrel settling tank. It covered an area of an acre in the northwest corner of the Keith-Ward tract, in which there are twenty-five wells. One of these is the Wood gusher, which is burning. A field force of 300 men has been organized to smother the fire. Steam will be used, as was done in the Jennings field.

CHEER NOMINEE

Democrats Say That Their Candidate Is Royally Received.

TORCH LIGHT PARADE

(Special A. D. Dispatch). Milwaukee, Sept. 12.—Upon David S. Rose is continuing his whirlwind campaign through the northern portion of the state. He is greeted by bands wherever he goes and at Menasha last night he was escorted to the hall by a torch light procession.

His campaign managers claim that at every station thousands turn out to greet him and show him homage. At democratic headquarters, the managers are quite jubilant over the results as shown thus far and believe that Rose's campaigning through the state is going to bear great results.

Closes Banks
At Kell the enthusiasm waxed so strong that the banks closed during the hour that the democratic nominee was there. Mayor Rose's great "holt" seems to be the primary bill and its fallacies. He lays great stress upon its faults and upon the abuses that such a bill can bring about in the management of state affairs. He is not as rabid in his speaking as he was at the outset and his arguments are forcefully delivered. Physically it looks as though "Brother Bob" was doing his part of the contract and keeping him in good condition.

Other Speakers.
Aside from Mayor Rose, the democratic managers have started out several other sets of speakers and beginning next Monday they will keep the doubtful counties of the state flooded with able spell binders to excite the interest and keep it up. Not only are they planning this but the torch light parade was so fine at Menasha that they are going to repeat it everywhere they can. Their plans are for a campaign of education.

BOARD OF TRADE IS ENJOINED BY LAW
Chicago Judge Deals a Crushing Blow to "Corners" on the Grain Market.

(Special By Scripps-Mellae.) Chicago, Sept. 12.—Judge Chytrous, in circuit court today, dealt a telling blow to "corners" when he made permanent forty injunctions restraining the board of trade from paying out certain margins put up by traders during the Patten oats deal. The court held that while there was no law preventing corners and the establishment of prohibitive and fictitious prices, the law can and will prevent the payment of margins beyond fair price.

CLAIMS HE DRANK DRUGGED LIQUOR
Supposed Heir to Thousands, in England, Tells a Weird Tale.

New York, Sept. 12.—(Special).—Like fiction is the story of George W. Barnes, a young man of refined appearance, found by the police in Trenton yesterday, and taken to a hospital where he is suffering from what he maintains was liquor poisoning. Barnes claims to be heir to $150,000 in London real estate. He exhibits a supposed copy of the will of his uncle, William P. Barnes, a London real estate owner, who is said to have died recently. One clause states that he shall receive the property in question on his thirtieth birthday, in January, 1903, provided that he has not by that time married Mary Ellen Dougherty. Barnes says he is still single. He was drugged while drinking with strangers.

MARSHAL'S DAUGHTER AT SLAYER'S HANGING
Woman Witnesses Execution From Scaffold and Cuts Down Murderer's Body.

Nashville, Ga., Sept. 12.—Boisy Bryant was hanged here for the murder of Town Marshal Hynds.

The crime for which Bryant was hanged was committed at Adel, Ga., last May. The negro was wanted in the town on a misdemeanor charge and Marshal Hynds attempted to arrest him. As the marshal approached Bryant, the negro drew a pistol and fired, mortally wounding the officer. Bryant escaped, but was captured a few days later.

SCHOOL YEAR TO OPEN ON MONDAY

MANY BUILDING IMPROVEMENTS MADE THIS SUMMER.

TO START KINDERGARTENS

New Addition Erected at the Adams School—Changes in the Teaching Force.

Vacation time is over and people who have been spending the summer at upriver and lake resorts are now returning to their homes and picking up the threads of busy every day life where they laid them down weeks ago.

The summer vacation of 1902 is also a thing of the past for teachers and pupils in the public schools and next Monday they must turn their thoughts from pleasure and recreation to the more serious work of the class room. A new school year will begin with Monday morning's session and its work will be entered upon with the energy and enthusiasm which are only possible when mind and body are thoroughly rested.

Preparations for the coming year have already begun and a spirit of bustle and enterprise has taken the place of the indolent ease of vacation time. Some of this activity has been felt in the stores where increased purchases of clothes, books, pencils, and tablets have been significant fore runners of the opening of school.

Plans and Examinations. For the past week the High school building has been a busy place and Supt. H. C. Buell has been a busy man, not only in planning the work of the future year but in conducting examinations as well. On Thursday pupils in the grades who had made up work during the summer in the hope of being promoted were given their examinations and the kindergarten teachers were also examined. The kindergarten examination is a special one, embracing the following subjects, juvenile literature, music, drawing, reading, writing, arithmetic, grammar, spelling, orthography, physiology and hygiene with special reference to children and the theory and art of kindergarten teaching.

First Teachers' Meeting. The teachers in the public schools took up the burden of work this afternoon when the first teachers' meeting of the year was held at the High school building. Supt. Buell met the kindergarten conductors, assistants and cadets at two o'clock and the other teachers at four o'clock.

Kindergartens to Start. The beginning of this year has been marked by many important changes, chief among them being the establishment of free kindergartens in the public schools. Four rooms have been fitted up and equipped one in each of the Washington, Adams, Jefferson and Webster buildings. The kindergarten room in the Adams school is in the new wing which will not be ready for occupancy for several weeks. Until it is completed the children in the Second ward will attend kindergarten in St. Mary's hall, the old church building.

The Kindergarten conductors who have been engaged to have charge of the work are Misses Nelva Denoyer, Myra Wilcox, E. A. Wiggins and are Misses Bethana Miller, Grace Gertrude Granger. The assistants are Spoon, Alice Estes and Laura Dudley. In addition to these paid instructors there will be a volunteer cadet in each kindergarten who will give her time for the benefit of the training. Three of these cadets have been appointed but there is still one vacancy which remains to be filled. The young ladies selected to serve as cadets are Misses Coral Bone-steel, Edith Loomis and Mary Buckmaster.

Bought Supplies. S. C. Burnham and H. J. Cunningham, representing the board of education, went to Chicago Thursday and purchased the kindergarten supplies. Only the things absolutely necessary for starting the work were purchased, a very small sum of money being expended. Of course it is very desirable that there should be a piano in each kindergarten room but no provision has been made as yet for these musical instruments.

New Addition. At the Adams school a new addition which will increase the capacity of the building by two large class rooms and a basement room, is in process of erection. It will probably be completed in about six weeks or two months. In addition to this two new hard wood floors have been laid in the building to take the place of the old soft wood ones which have worn out.

Many Transfers. With the exception of the Adams school, the new kindergartens have been accommodated without any additional building having been done, although it has required considerable shifting around and transferring. At the Washington school the kindergarten was placed in the former third grade room on the first floor, the third grade has been moved into the old fifth grade room on the second floor, the fifth grade into the sixth grade room and the sixth grade has been transferred bodily to the Grant school where there is a good room which has been unoccupied heretofore.

Grades are Changed. At the Jefferson school the kindergarten will take the room formerly occupied by the third grade on the first floor, the third grade has been moved into the sixth grade room on the second floor and a part of the old High school assembly room on the third floor has been partitioned off and fitted up for the sixth grade. At the Webster school, the second grade room has been given to the kindergarten, the second grade has been moved to the third grade room upstairs and the third grade has been transferred to the Lincoln school.

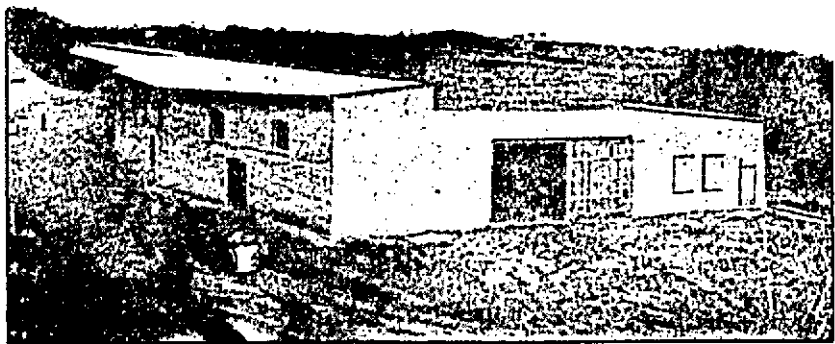

Cost of Improvements. The appropriation for the new addition at the Adams school was $2000 and while the needed repairs on the other buildings have been quite expensive, they involve a comparatively small outlay of money.

At the High School. At the High school building all the woodwork has been painted and varnished, the business recitation room has been calcined and the walls tinted, the toilet rooms fixed over and a new recitation room has been fitted up back of the stage on the gymnasium floor. This will be used by the literature classes and gives each teacher on the faculty a separate class room for his or her work.

Washington School. At the Washington school in addition to the refitting of the rooms made necessary by the addition of the kindergarten, two new hard wood floors have been laid and single seats have taken the place of the old double ones in the primary room.

More Room Made. At the Lincoln school the crowded condition will be relieved by the division of the seventh grade into two departments one of which will be placed in the hitherto unoccupied room on the first floor. There will also be two sixth grades and a room on the third floor has been fitted up for one of them. The third grade from the Webster school will be accommodated in the room formerly occupied by the sixth grade. One hard wood floor has been laid in the building and one room has been calcined and the walls tinted.

Other Improvements. At the Webster school city water has been placed on both floors in addition to the refitting of the rooms for the accommodation of the kindergarten. At the Jefferson and the Grant schools the work has been confined to the fitting up of the new rooms and at the Douglas building only slight repairs have been made. The interior of the Jackson school in Spring Brook has been made very attractive. The wood work has been painted and the rooms calcined. The walls of the class rooms have been tinted a dull green and the hall walls are terra cotta.

Beautiful Grounds. The grounds surrounding all the buildings are very pretty. Flower beds are in full bloom, the vines are luxuriant and many trees and bushes are in a thriving condition. Janitors and teachers have taken great interest in the work and school yard improvement has become an important and permanent feature. It is stated that one of the main reasons why one of the city school janitors lost his position was because he neglected the plants and window boxes entrusted to his care. Comparatively few changes have been made in the teaching force of the city although there will be many new faces. The majority of the changes are in the High school where there will be four new instructors. Following is a complete list of the teachers in the employ of the city. MACHINERY HAS DELAYED WORK

OTHERWISE THE CEMENT POST WORKS ARE READY.

BUILDING IS NOW COMPLETED

The Entire Cost Will Reach Some Fifty Thousand Dollars as a Total.

Another delay in the process of completing the cement post factory has been brought about by the failure of the needed machinery to arrive. The sand mixers, pulley shafting, engine, drier and screener apparatus has been ordered but for some unaccountable reason they have not been shipped to this city. Although Contractor Peters is able to keep his men busy on the drier building, he could as easily keep the work of installing the machinery going at the same time.

Building Completed. No more work is left to be done on the main building save for the finishing of the office quarters. There is every reason to believe that the contract will be completed within the expected time. Nearly all the machinery that has been received has already been put in place, and the remainder will be as rapidly as it is received.

Costly Machinery. The amount that the entire plant will have cost when it has been completed will be about fifteen thousand dollars, approximately fifteen thousand of which will cover the cost of the building. The largest part of the remainder will have been put in to the machinery. Taking into account the difficulties which have been encountered at every point the men who have had the work in charge are to be congratulated on the progress that they have made.

ADOLPH FARBER IS IN THE CITY

New Orchestra Leader for Myers Grand Here—Yon Yonson Pleased Large Audience.

"Yon Yonson" at the Opera House Friday evening was "Yon Yonson," which is tantamount to saying that it is one of the best plays of its type on the stage. But the best part of the performance was the presence in person of the much heralded musician who is to take charge of the opera house orchestra and drill it to some degree of perfection. The incidental and interlarded musical numbers were, if anything, a little below the standard which has prevailed this season, which is low. But this may be excused by the fact that Adolph Farber, the new leader, arrived late in the afternoon, and had no time for a preliminary rehearsal.

With Good Record. Mr. Farber has come to this city from Detroit where he has been in the employ of a music house as a piano tuner. Previous to that date he filled the musical director's chair in the opera houses in Trenton, New Jersey, Wheeling, West Virginia, and Dubois, Pennsylvania. Thus far he has had no fair opportunity in this city to display his ability as a conductor, but it was evident from the way that he handled his instrument, that he understands the violin as an orchestral instrument.

WAS ELEAZER WILLIAMS REALLY THE LOST DAUPHIN OF FRANCE?

The Strange Story of a Mohawk Indian Who Laid Claim to the French Throne.

At one time or other in the history of this country, there have been sensational characters who have fled away from revolutions and proscriptions to end their lives in the wilderness of the New World. These "Emigrants" have many of them lived quietly and died in the obscurity they sought. Some have proclaimed their position and rank and a few impostors have laid claim to high titles and places that were not theirs. America has always been the home of the wanderers of the political refugees of other nations. Strange stories come from the dark forests of this country in the early part of the century and the last of the proceeding. Among them that of Lazarre, "The Lost Dauphin."

Lazarre. Perhaps this story of the Lost Dauphin is especially appropriate at this time when the revival of the tale by Otis Skinner in his new play of that name is before the public. His play deals with the fictitious side of the controversy that racked the brains of our historians in cause. The Putnam Magazine published a long account with affidavits showing that Williams was without doubt the Dauphin. The claim aroused the historians of this country and a careful investigation of all the facts showed that he was not the Dauphin but the son of Indian parentage.

Williams the Man. From early associated we find that Williams was a fraud from the beginning of his career. He came among the Oneidas as a missionary and for twenty years remained with them, even into their migrations into Wisconsin. He spoke the Mohawk language fluently, and this gave him the prestige he had over his fellow creatures. He was illiterate and did not know how to speak English until 1820 correctly and French never at all.

His Associates. General Albert Ellis of Green Bay was one of his closest companions and for years acted as his teacher and assistant. He first met him at Oneida Castle, New York state when Williams was the missionary there.

remember that he was the Dauphin despite the blow. His mother, the Indian squaw, testified in 1853 that Williams was her own son, her fourth boy and explained why his baptism was not recorded upon the parish books. Later Williams secured another statement from his mother in which she said that he was her adopted son.

The Claims. While to historians and men of letters Williams' claim was absurd there are still Indians at the Oneida reservation who firmly believed that he was the Lost Dauphin. Even Catlin, the famous painter, who painted a picture of this unique character in the early thirties stated that he was marked with the leading characteristics of the Bourbon family of France.

His Fallacies. That Eleazer Williams, who by his own statement to the Masonic order at Green Bay in 1825 was an Indian born near Sault St. Louis, should dare to announce himself as Louis Capot, King of France is one of the mysteries that will always surround the life of this man. He had plenty of opportunity to attempt his fraud upon the Prince de Joinville when he visited America or upon De Ferra but did not do so. It was later that he conceived the idea and after they were gone a story of the Dauphins being among the Indians of the Northwest that he raised his claims.

The Play. Mr. Skinner's play treats of Lazarre, the picture prince and its closing scene is laid in Green Bay where the lost prince of the Bourbons is supposed to have ended his life as a missionary among his chosen people.

TROOPS AND MOB IN BATTLE

Fighting Reported at Eldorado, Ill., but No Details Given Out.

Springfield, Ill., Sept. 12.—Captain W. E. Sutherland, in command of troops at Eldorado, has telegraphed Adj. Gen. Smith stating that there was a skirmish between the soldiers and an armed mob. Gov. The trouble is the first serious encounter that has occurred since the troops were sent. It is now believed that the soldiers will remain at Eldorado until the state officials shall bring about a settlement of the differences existing there.

The old proverb: "To be at peace prepare for war," is the secret of the larger part of life's successes, whether of nations or individuals.

The difference between the healthy, happy mother who has healthy children to nurse and nourish, and the weak, nervous mother, with a weakling child, is mostly a difference of preparation.

The great preparative for motherhood is Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It tranquilizes the nerves, encourages the appetite and induces refreshing sleep. It gives the mother strength to give her child. It imparts elasticity and strength to the organs of maternity so that the baby's advent is practically painless.

"I take pleasure in writing you to let you know about your 'Favorite Prescription,'" says Mr. E. E. Fricke, of Petersburg, Menard Co., Ill., box 36. "My wife had been sick nearly all her life and after trying everything I could think of I made up my mind to try 'Favorite Prescription.' I sent to Chicago and got six bottles, which my wife took a tablespoonful three times a day, until the baby came. She felt better after taking the first bottle, and when baby was born he weighed nine and a half pounds. To-day he is six months old and weighs twenty-two pounds. He is as good a child as any one could wish. The doctor says he is as healthy as any baby could be, and also the doctor says your 'Favorite Prescription' was the cause of such a healthy baby. I felt I owed you this much for the good you did my wife and myself. I hope you will mention this to others who may be in need of such help, and you may refer them to me, as I would be glad to tell of the good of such a valuable medicine."

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, in paper covers, is sent free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

MISS IDA M. SNYDER,

Treasurer of the Brooklyn East End Art Club.

MENSTRUAL irregularities are generally the beginning of a woman's troubles. With the vitality at a low ebb, the digestion disordered, she goes about pale-faced, hollow-eyed and haggard, a pitiful contrast to the blooming health of her former self. But over 1,000,000 women have found health again by taking Wine of Cardui.

to their health we would have more happy wives, mothers and daughters, and if they would use more intelligence in the matter of medicines, observing results, they would find that the doctors' prescriptions do not perform the many cures they are given credit for.

"In consulting with my druggist he advised McEli's Wine of Cardui and Thedford's Black-Draught, and so I took it and have every reason to thank him for a new life opened up to me with restored health, and it only took three months to cure me."

You may secure the same relief as Miss Snyder, if you take Wine of Cardui as she took it. Thedford's Black-Draught is the companion medicine of Wine of Cardui and it is a liver and bowel regulator which assists greatly in effecting a cure. If you take these medicines according to directions, the relief and cure is simple. Some cases are cured quickly and others take longer because the disease has run longer. Remember how Miss Snyder took Wine of Cardui and has health. The same medicines are offered you to-day.

the early fifties when Eleazer Williams first made known his claims to the throne of France as their lawful king, Louis the Seventeenth, deprived of his throne by the revolution of '93 and later kidnapped and brought to America by a scheming uncle.

The Lost Dauphin.

When Louis the Sixteenth and his beautiful but willful queen Marie Antoinette were captured by the mob of Paris at the outbreak of the French revolution, their little son, the Dauphin of France was confined in the Tower of Paris by his cruel captors. The Dauphin was but seven years old at this time and he sickened and died, his remains being buried, according to French historians in the cemetery of St. Marguerite, in Faubourg St. Antoine. Louis the Sixteenth had been beheaded and his wife Marie Antoinette had lost her wonderful life to satisfy the cravings of a blood thirsty populace. France had passed from a republic to an empire and back to a kingdom before way off in the woods of Wisconsin, Eleazer Williams, a missionary minister of the Episcopal church, set forth his claim that he was the lost Dauphin.

Eleazer Williams.

Eleazer Williams had always been supposed to be a Mohawk Indian of mixed parentage. His birth place he had given as Sault St. Louis, near Montreal. Here he had grown up to the age of thirteen years when he was sent to Massachusetts to school. He had returned to his people and in Oneida county, New York as a missionary. He was an ambitious man and his wonderful power over both the whites and the Indians, later he came west with the Brother town and Oneidas settled on what is now the Oneida reservation near Green Bay, Wis.

His Later Life.

Williams seems to have lost his influence with the Indians and have been discredited by them. We find him drifting about the country until 1853 when he captured the public's attention by his unique declaration that he was the Lost Dauphin of France. He found backers in New York and learned men took up his claim. The one mastering idea of Eleazer Williams was the establishing of an empire west of the Great Lakes, for his people, the Indians. He was the earnest advocate of this plan and it was through his efforts that the colony of Brothertown Indians and Oneidas came west in the early thirties and bought land from Menominee and Winnebagoes near Green Bay. Williams was the leading spirit in the move and when it floundered he lost interest in the welfare of his people and took more and more to the ways of the white man. We find him in Washington and New York and we find there a prominent New York historian taking up his weird story that he was heir to the crown of France.

Lazarre the Boy.

Investigation of the claims by rival historians and magazines bring forth the true story of the Williams, born in St. Louis, he was the fourth child of Thomas and Mary Ann Taborakwanekln of Williams in English. As a boy he played about Sault St. Louis until he was thirteen years old. There were many Indians alive in 1853 who remembered him and his scars that he received running barefooted during the summer months. These selfsame scars Williams claimed as identical with those of the lost Dauphin as a proof of his claim.

His Wonderful Injury.

When about thirteen he went to Massachusetts to school. Williams claims that at this time he struck his head while swimming and his lost memory came back to him, that before this he had been foolish. The strange part of this story is that not until nearly thirty years later did he

THE CHURCH AND THE THEATER

The action of the manager of the local opera house in attempting to establish a Sunday night theatre, and the subsequent action of the common council in prohibiting has led to much discussion and more or less bitterness has developed on both sides.

The church and the theatre are ancient organizations. The former was established by God Himself, back in the ages when idolatry and superstition were so prevalent that it was necessary to meet the limitations of the worshipper by the ark of the covenant.

With the dawn of the new dispensation and the coming of the Messiah superstition gradually faded away, until in the bright light of the new twentieth century all Christendom recognizes the sanctuary as the house of God and the church as His peculiar ordinance.

Many sects and denominations are established to meet the demands of a complex constituency but the church everywhere is regarded sacred. It was not organized, and it is not maintained to meet the demands of the mind or intellect. It is as natural for people to worship something as it is to breathe, and this worship is an attribute of the heart. The mission of the church is to crystallize this sacred sentiment and turn it Godward. The measure of success attained and the methods employed are matters of every day history.

The theatre or place of public amusement and entertainment, is as ancient as the cradle in the matter of development and improvement it has kept pace with the march of civilization, until the modern theatre of today represents a higher order of entertainment than at any period in history.

The theatre, not the dive, is the product of popular demand and the character of the plays produced is in keeping with the sentiment and environments with which they are surrounded.

The church is a place of worship, the theatre a place of entertainment. The church, wherever located, stands for the highest ideals of Christian civilization. No community could long exist without it, and it has long been recognized as the advance guard of progress.

The church appeals to the heart, the theatre to the intellect. The mission of the former is always elevating because it appeals to the best there is in humanity.

Next to the heart the mind is enthroned and its devices and demands are as complex as humanity itself. The average mind in normal condition craves recreation and entertainment and not infrequently finds both in the modern theatre. The character of the play that may furnish the relaxation depends upon the bent of mind, the degree of culture, and individual taste.

The church recognizes this universal demand for entertainment and attempts to cater to it in various ways, but efforts along this line have never been noted for a marked degree of success. The church that turns the place of worship into a playhouse soon discovers that it has prostituted a sacred ordinance to the disapproval of public sentiment and to the detriment of the cause.

There is no conflict between the church and the theatre, because the church of today is not hide-bound, and does not assume to be conscience for the individual.

The Methodist church has long been burdened with a code of obsolete rules which attempts to govern the members on questions of amusements. It is a dead letter, and the intelligence of the church has long since demanded its removal. It has done more to keep young people who do their own thinking out of the organization during the last quarter of a century than anything connected with it.

The church of what ever creed, recognizes generally that the code of laws handed down to Moses from Sinai so long ago, is a complete code so far as questions of right and wrong are concerned, and if anything was lacking that it was supplied by the Master when he said 2000 years ago, "A new commandment I give unto you, that ye love one another."

The time has long since gone by when people believe that every man who plays cards is a gambler, or who owns a fast horse is a jockey.

So in the discussion of the theatre question the man displays his ignorance and narrowness who makes the statement that all actors are degenerates, and all women on the stage characters of doubtful reputation. That bad men and women are to be found in the profession, the same as in any other calling, is an open secret, but the church is not free from this class of characters, and wholesale criticism is both unjust and unfair.

The stage at its best today is an educator as well as an entertainer and men and women of high ambitions and pure moral character control it.

The question of the Sunday theatre is purely a question of local sentiment. The larger cities and many of the smaller ones demand the Sunday night entertainment, and while it does not speak well for high morals or a proper appreciation of the day, the cold fact remains and the theatre is liberally patronized.

While Janesville winks at many kinds of immorality, and is not a close observer of the Sabbath, it is gratifying to know that the Sunday theatre did not meet with public approval.

The matter of church attendance and church appreciation is always a perplexing question. That both are neglected is generally acknowledged, not only in Janesville but in many other localities. The clergy are at a loss for an explanation, and the problem how to create a more widespread interest is still unsolved. Dowelism, Christian Science, and other new issues which claim to be adjuncts of the Christian church have drawn heavily upon long established denominations.

The spirit of the age is restless and the church suffers to greater or less extent on this account. When the world becomes ideal, the theatre, and other attractions that satisfy the minds of so many people today, will give place to the church with its sacred influences, and then will be the millennium.

PAY DAY FOR THE BLIND.

New York, Sept. 10.—Monday was pay day for the blind. One of the beneficent laws of the city provides that all who are bereft of sight shall receive each year $50 in gold from the treasury, and 6598 people from whom the blessed sight of nature's loveliness is forever barred availed themselves of the noble charity. Some came led by wee little children, some were under the escort of messenger boys, some picked their way along, and a few fortunate ones were brought to the city paymaster in cabs. The foot of East Twenty-sixth street presented a strange sight. A squad of fifteen policemen were on hand to repel the curious, and many mysterious men in "plain clothes" mixed with the throng to see that the beneficiaries were not waylaid by thieves. Pitiful to tell, all who came were not merely blind. There were those who bore the triple burden of being maimed, halt and blind. One little girl of 15 was deaf, dumb, paralyzed and blind. There was a Baxter street woman, 80 years of age, who arrived with a resplendent team of black loaned her for the occasion by a sentimental liveryman. A pathetic incident occurred when Charles Brookes, a legless colored man, addressed a short speech of sympathy to his fellow unfortunates. About fifty who came were ejected on the ground that they were rich. One woman applicant who has an income of $5,000 per year demanded what she called her legal right. She was turned down.—Evening Wisconsin.

While this charity is philanthropic and speaks well for the city, it practically means that the blind population of New York belong to the dependent classes.

This in spite of the fact that the city claims to have the best school for the education of the blind that there is in the country. This school is conducted, and has been for fifty years or more, purely on literary lines, and the education of the hand, which is the only practical education for the blind, has been sadly neglected.

The school never enrolls more than 200 pupils and the result is that the blind population of the city as a class are deprived of any sort of an education.

It is a sad among educators and endorsed by public sentiment through ignorance that the blind and deaf are educated, and should be self supporting when they graduate from a literary or musical course, and so the schools of this class. In many states are turning out every year classes of genteel paupers. New York appears to have her full quota.

What the blind and the deaf need is an education that is intensely practical. They are ambitious to become independent self-supporting citizens, and they are entitled to the best equipment that can be furnished. They are willing to work and fully appreciate the fact that the ability to earn an honest dollar is more to them than any other attainment. The scene in New York last Monday when 6500 blind people applied for public charity is not a flattering comment on the educational system. If the city had provided and industrial school fifty years ago, and taught these people to work, many of them would be spared humiliation and the city would not be guilty of the crime of neglect.

Sunday base ball and golf are all right, and there is nothing immoral in a City Hall contract, but the Sunday theatre is bad, very bad.

Consistency is said to be a jewel, but jewelry is out of date in these piping days of reform.

The republican state central committee accomplished a good job of whitewashing on the Cary-Harvey case. Buckstaff and Stout don't appear to be in it.

If the women of the state should vote for Mathie on the school question, would they be democrats?

The state fair was a success as also was the Jahrmarkt. Milwaukee was long on attractions this week, but seemed equal to the occasion.

The men who insulted Senator Spooner in the convention do not hesitate to call on him for aid in the campaign.

RIVAL BALL TEAMS WILL MEET SUNDAY

The Clinton Maroons and Bass Creek Nine Will Contest on the Diamond.

On Sunday next two of the strongest semi-professional teams in this part of the state will cross bats at Bleasdale's park. The Clinton Maroons, who have a record of seventeen straight victories without a loss, and the Bass Creek team, who have played eight games, out of all of which they have emerged with flying colors, will contest in a battle royal. Each team will make every effort, and it was said by one of the players, "spare no expense," to keep its record as clean as it now is.

Clinton has to her credit, victories in contests with such teams as the Milwaukee Sentinels, Journales, Oshkosh, Rockford, Three League, Appleton and Milton; while Bass Creek have taken into camp Edgerton, Brodhead, and Janesville on several occasions. An excursion train will be run to the grounds.

EXPANSION IS NOTED IN TRADE

RETAILERS ARE DOING WELL

Inadequate Supply of Fuel in Appar-ent in the Iron and Steel Industry, but Importations Keep Prices at a Reasonable Level.

New York, Sept. 13.—"Industrial activity is greater than at any recent date. Many new factories and mills have been added to the productive capacity, facilities are being increased at old plants, and idle shops resumed through the settlement of labor controversies. A coke blockade still exists, the railways being unable to handle the output, which is above all records and in urgent request. Despite the rapid development of transportation facilities the nation's needs have grown still faster and the situation is distressing for shippers and consumers. Large crops are being harvested and the greater abundance of food-stuffs caused a decline in prices of commodities during August of 3.5 per cent, as measured by Dun's index number.

Bank Exchanges Grow.
"Retail trade is large, with a bright outlook for the future in jobbing and wholesale business. There are few of the cancellations so numerous at this time last year, while collections are improving. An advance of 22.9 per cent in bank exchanges at New York over the same week last year cannot be explained by speculation, as dealings in stocks were also heavy in 1901. Railway earnings in August exceeded last year's by 4.2 per cent and those of 1900 by 18.1 per cent."

Fuel Shortage Felt.
R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade makes the foregoing summary. Continuing the Review says: "Although the weekly capacity of pig iron furnaces in blast on September 1 was reported as 335,139 tons by the Iron Age, it has since been appreciably curtailed by the inadequate supply of fuel, on which account numerous furnaces were blown out, or at least banked. As consumptive requirements are increasing it is necessary to place orders abroad more extensively, and in some cases the entire output of foreign plants has been secured.

"Not only raw material, but billets and even rails are sought in other markets. German mills offering the best terms in most cases. Heavy importations have prevented further advance in quotations, but domestic producers have a ready market for their output, contracts still running far into the future. Railways are in great need of new locomotives and other equipment.

Boots and Shoes Firm.
"New England producers of boots and shoes are insisting on full prices, and some grades that were slow to respond are now showing the improvement. No sign of weakness is seen in leather, some selections rising still more, particularly the better grades of sole and belting butts. Slight reactions have occurred in some packer and country hides, but most lines are still firmly held. Liberal receipts have not depressed foreign dry hides. Textile mills are well occupied, with prices sustained in all cases, and moderate advances in some cotton goods, which are in demand for quick delivery.

Wool Is Quiet.
"With the exception of early orders there has come a quiet market for wools and worsteds, but mills have large contracts on hand.

"Low stocks of wheat and poor grading of receipts, together with fears of frost in corn sections, sustained quotations when a decline would have been imminent if full confidence were placed in official returns of condition.

"Failures for the week numbered 205 in the United States, against 193 last year, and twenty-two in Canada, against eighteen a year ago."

MOROS FIRE ON AMERICANS

Attack Garrison at Camp Vicars, but Are Quickly Dispersed.

Manila, Sept. 13.—A party of Moros who occupied a wooded hill fired into Camp Vicars, island of Mindanao, during the night of Sept. 9. The Americans returned the fire spiritedly and dispersed the enemy. There were no casualties among the troops.

He took with him a troop of cavalry, two companies of infantry and two Maxim guns. The friendlies welcomed the Americans cordially and their meeting was successful.

New York, Sept. 13.—High records for stock exchange seats have been broken by the purchase of a membership for an unknown western man for $31,000. In addition to this sum $1,000 will be the price of initiation.

Prince at Ohio School.

YOUNG MOTHERS

May Need Helpful Advice at Trying Times. They Should Remember Mrs. Pinkham Freely Offers Her Motherly Advice.

"O, if my mother were only alive."
How frequently young mothers use this expression! All through her life she has known a mother's watchful care. She is now a mother herself and gains in strength but slowly. She would give worlds to do everything for her babe, but cannot. That tiny babe has unfolded in the young mother's heart new emotions; she has a living responsibility, and requires strength to enable her to perform a loving duty. At such a time too much care cannot be taken, and the greatest assistance that nature can have is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

The birth of the first child is an especially trying experience and nature needs all the help it can get. A happy, healthy, young mother is a delight to herself and all who know her, and Mrs. Pinkham's medicine will build her up as nothing else can.

Mrs. Pinkham especially requests young mothers and wives to write her if they need advice. She has been mother, helper, and friend to thousands—let her help you—it will cost you nothing.

By special permission we publish below the correspondence between Mrs. Pinkham and Mrs. George Traub, of Elizabeth, N. J., which goes to prove our claims.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I will take my husband's advice and write to you, for I will not have any doctor examine me. I have one little girl. Two months before my baby was born I began the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and have now a fine healthy little girl. At five months she weighed twenty-one pounds, but my health is not so good. I am in such misery, pain, have dreadful bearing-down feelings, and something like a lump seems to be coming from me. Please give me your advice."—Mrs. GEORGE TRAUB, 113 Miller St., Elizabeth, N. J. (Dec. 1, 1899.)

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I have now taken four bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. When I had finished the first bottle, that lump I wrote about grew smaller and has now gone entirely. I feel that I do not need any doctor beside your medicine. Your Vegetable Compound has cured all my pain, soreness and bearing down. The benefit I have received from it is wonderful. You and you alone will be my guide as long as I live."—Mrs. GEORGE TRAUB, 113 Miller St., Elizabeth, N. J. (Jan. 27, 1900.)

$5000 REWARD
Owing to the fact that some skeptical people have from time to time questioned the genuineness of the testimonials letters we are constantly publishing we have deposited with the National City Bank of New York, $5000, which will be paid to any person who will show that the above testimonial is not genuine, or was published before obtaining the writer's special permission.—Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Company, Lynn, Mass.

HOTELS TO CHARGE FOR SAMPLE ROOMS

Expenses of Traveling Men Are Increased by Recent Action of Landlords.

A move that will mean considerable to travelling men was inaugurated at the meeting of the Hotel Keepers' association at Fond du Lac last week. Heretofore it has been the custom at most of the hotels to furnish sample rooms to travelling men without extra charge, but under the new ruling there will be a minimum charge of fifty cents for sample rooms.

The resolution was that a notice should be posted in all hotels belonging to the association that after October first there should be a charge of not less than fifty cents made for sample rooms.

This means an extra expense of not less than fifty cents a day to all travelling men that require a sample room unless they show their goods in their sleeping quarters.
